Have you recently asked Hertfordshire County Council for help with social care questions? Your personal stories are incredibly valuable to us. Your story could be about you or someone you care for.

We are eager to hear about all experiences, both positive and negative. Together, we can ensure that our information and advice services benefit everyone in our community.

People can face significant barriers when accessing information and advice, especially individuals with additional support needs or from diverse backgrounds. It's important to us to make sure that every member of our community is heard and supported.
